West's Condition Unchanged; Thief Still At Large

ST. ALBERT — Frederick L. West, station agent at St. Albert who was beaten and robbed Tuesday, April 15, is still in an unchanged condition. In the Royal Alexandra Hospital.

He was assaulted around six o'clock by a young man between 20 and 22 years of age, who came into the station saying he was expecting a telegram. West, who was alone at the time, said there was no telegram for him and turned away, whereupon the thug hit him over the head with a sock filled with sand and followed with a blow with a flatiron and a can of molasses, articles which happened to be in the station. West slumped to the floor and the thief went through his pockets relieving him of a total of $17.00, $10.00 which belonged to West and the remainder belonged to the company.

West came to and, summoning aid, the RCMP were notified. At press time Staff Sgt. McPhee said there was still no trace of the wanted man, but the search is continuing.

Competition Rules For Farm and Home Improvement Plan

Edmonton Agricultural Society are sponsoring a farm and home improvement competition to be judged sometime next fall. This is the third season this competition has been run.

At a meeting held in the Massey Harris Building, Board Room this evening of April 2, the rules of the contest were outlined. Miss Ruth Whaley, Home Economist outlined what improvements could be expected around the home. She said in planning a home, a person should have in mind these important items: the convenience of the home and the livability of it, adequacy of the home for the family with plenty of bedroom space. She emphasized the importance of safety with in the home. Fire precautions should be taken. Fire extinguishers liberally distributed around the home. One thing to avoid is too steep stairs. Marks will be given or taken away on such things as the type and condition of the working facilities. And an evidence of good housekeeping is important.

Following Miss Whaley's advice on how a farm home should be planned, Mr. R. J. Whitbread, D.A. for Stone Plain and Strathcona talked on the planning of the house grounds. He stated that only neat grounds go along with well planned farms. Elaborate lawns are not necessary nor are they practical. Better a few shrubs, flowers and little square of lawn well looked after. Neatness and thought for planning will be the scoring marks.

The next speaker was Mr. J. St. Fontaine, S.A. of Morinville and Sturgeon municipalities. Mr. Fontaine dealt with rotation and soil conservation. He said planning a lawn on a sandy or gravelly soil, including the growing of forage crops in rotation of fields whereby for one quarter to one half the land is in forage crops rotated with grain. Mr. Fontaine said that with proper long vision, planning, the necessary farming machinery can be obtained for the requirements of such a crop program with an economy of services in both type and numbers required.

The final speaker of the evening was H. J. Fuleher who is an assistant agriculturist and works in all municipalities. His project for the contest are the buildings, Mr.

Fuleher maintained that when planning the farm buildings there are a number of things which should be kept in mind such as the "planning of buildings"; their proximity to fields being a chief consideration and access to the market road important. He pointed out, however, that once a farmstead is set up, it is not easily changed. In this instance, if the farm buildings are badly laid out, through a fault of the present owner, then its general appearance and upkeep will be a hindrance or detract from the scoring. Adequacy of buildings, labor saving devices and fence and coral repair provision are some of the scoring points.

Fatally Hurt When Team Bolts

ST. PAUL, Alta. — Peter Palashuk, a farmer of the Thorlon district, 15 miles north of here, was fatally injured when he slipped and fell under a granary he was moving. St. Paul is 110 miles northwest of Edmonton. St. Paul RCMP said the farmer had hitched a team of horses to the granary. The team bolted and the granary skids passed over Palashuk's chest when he slipped in the mud. He died in Giddens hospital.

FARMERS URGED NOT TO BURN STUBBLE AS STRAW IS VALUABLE

EDMONTON — G. R. Sterling, Supervisor of Soil Conservation and Weed Control in the Department of Agriculture has issued a warning to farmers to not burn stubble, in the interests of Soil Conservation.

In his statement, he says: "If farmers think heavy stubble is a nuisance, stop and listen."

If you burn it, it's gone. If you keep it as trash cover you stop soil drifting and water erosion. Trash cover holds moisture in the soil where you want it. It decays to provide food for your crops.

Did you know that 1500 pounds of straw or stubble per acre supplies as much nitrogen as 75 pounds of 11-48-0 or 50 pounds of 16-20-0 fertilizer? Why burn it?

Here's how to handle heavy trash:

Use a blade type or wide shovel cultivator — or use sharp tillers or discers. You may have to go over the field twice. Scatter windrowed straw first.

Three ways to scatter straw:

Use an oscillating harrow.

Cultivate across the windrow with a wide shovel cultivator from which alternate or more shanks have been removed. You can use an ordinary cultivator if you take off enough shanks.

Drive across the rows with an ordinary dump rake, but space the teeth 18 inches or more, depending on the amount of straw.

What about seeding? You can seed through trash cover with a disc drill, or with a seeding attachment on your tiller or discer. Pack the land after seeding. Don't worry if seed shows at the straw clumps.

Straw and stubble is valuable. Don't burn it.

Moving Plans To New Field

Mayor William Hawrelak says the transfer of military flying to Nanaimo from Edmonton's municipal airport is expected to be completed by 1954.

The mayor made the statement following receipt of a letter from Mines and Technical Surveys Minister George Prud'homme, which said military operations would be moved to Nanaimo as soon as new facilities under construction there become available.

The winter experimental establishment was moved to the field last year. Nanaimo is located just outside Edmonton's northern limits.

The City of Edmonton RCAF Reserve Squadron is not included in the transfer plans.

Mayor Hawrelak says the Nanaimo base will be used exclusively for military flying which rules out any chance of heavy civilian planes also using the base.

Edmonton officials have been fearful of a serious crash taking place in the residential areas surrounding the municipal airport inside the city limits.

Rush Livestock From Edmonton

EDMONTON — Railway officials said that nearly 600 cars of livestock have left Edmonton for Vancouver since the partial lifting of the B.C. embargo. Last week 150 cars were shipped.

Find "Easy Route" To Interior B.C.

BELLA COOLA, B.C. (EUP) — The dreams of engineers to find an easy route for a highway between Bella Coola on the north coast of British Columbia and the interior of the province may have been realized.

A party, led by forest ranger Bill Benwell, has found a "ridiculously easy route" over grass-studded dirt hills about 50 miles up the Bella Coola valley.

Demand for the highway to the interior were blocked by the Government for several years because of the high cost of blasting a road through the mountains.

The investigation party reported there was little more than 1,000 feet of rock involved in the entire proposed route.

There are 45 miles of roads in the Bella Coola valley and an additional 24 miles would give Canadian her third outlet to the Pacific.

EDITORIALS

Harvesting in the Spring

About 56 million bushels of wheat and 71 million bushels of oats and barley lay out unharvested on Alberta farms this past winter.

That means that a lot of harvesting will have to be completed this spring.

It is the hope of all that favorable weather will be experienced, as the grain should be dry before it is combined or threshed.

Some 190 million bushels of tough and damp grain have already been delivered in the west from the 1951 crop. Another 60 million are in farm bins soon to be delivered. About 60 million bushels have been dried in terminals.

Further deliveries of tough and damp grain to country elevators will aggravate an already serious condition. Farmers are advised not to harvest their last fall's crop until it is dry to avoid the loss of revenue that will result by delivering low grade wheat, oats and barley to grain buyers.

The Flying Saucers

Despite many official denials in recent years, the case of the flying saucers continues to arouse interest and cause concern. The latest information indicates that one of the military services, at least, has now initiated a program, in all seriousness, to learn more about the strange flying objects periodically reported over the United States.

As far as can be learned, none of the strange flying objects has ever landed in the United States, though they have been reported seen by veteran airline pilots, veteran military pilots and by many other responsible officials. The descriptions have varied, from time to time, which has led to the belief that witnesses were only seeing natural phenomena. However, the descriptions have become so persistent and have been from such reliable sources, that military officials have deemed it proper to seriously investigate this stranger-than-fiction situation.

This is a strong indication that there is more than meets the eye in the flying saucers' report. Whether the saucers originate outside the United States or whether they are experimental projects of the U.S. armed forces, the editor cannot say. All that can be said is that some of the military are taking seriously reports of weird objects flying through the skies.

Splash!

Motorists in our town are, in the main, as courteous a group as you will find anywhere. They are careful to watch the speed limit, to stop at signs and to watch out for children on the streets. They seldom, if ever, race a pedestrian to a street crossing and usually turn corners on at least three wheels. In other words, they are good citizens when they get behind the wheel of their car.

In the spring, sloppy streets and puddles offer temptation. There is something inexpressibly funny about seeing a person (someone else of course) get splashed—funny, that is, to people other than the splashee. Now in our town motorists curb their sense of humor and simply don't go swishing around town splashing as many pedestrians as they can. But once in a while a car driver may be just a little absent-minded and may unintentionally splash a person walking along the sidewalk, minding his or her own business.

This, then, is an appeal to auto drivers to avoid absent-mindedness until the streets dry up, to drive a little more slowly than the law calls for and to keep an eye open for pedestrians. The result will be (we hope) no splashed spring togs and no irate citizens.

Thoughtfulness in the springtime and indeed any season of the year helps to keep everyone happy.

British Labor Party Gains

In elections early in April to the London County Council, candidates representing the Labor Party made a strong comeback and won nearly three out of every four seats. Of course, the Labor Party has always been strong in London and has exercised control over the London area for eighteen years. In 1949, the Conservatives almost won control of the Council.

The Conservative trend in England was further demonstrated in 1949 in the general elections, when the Churchill Government won control of Parliament. From the results of the latest elections, it appears there is some possibility that the trend has been reversed.

Labor candidates in the April elections pointed to the national situation in England, the new austerity program and the decreased rations, to show that the Conservative Government had accomplished nothing since being elected to office. The promises of last year, of red meat, more food, lower prices, all were ridiculed by the Laborites, who can point to less meat and higher prices, in many cases, and tightened rations in most cases.

Of course, the Conservatives are embarking on a rearmament program and have other reasons for the tightened controls but, nevertheless, their control in Parliament hangs by a thin thread. Everyone agrees that the next few months may be a crucial period in the Conservative Party's reign in England. The accuracy of Laborite predictions that the Churchill Government would last only six months will probably be determined in the next few weeks or months.

More Food For People

The gradual disappearance of the horse as a source of farm draft power has meant that more land is available for feeding people.

Charles F. Kettering, research consultant for General Motors, calculates that 4½ persons can be fed on the land hitherto required to produce fodder for one horse. That means that 80 million more people in the United States can be fed without farming one more acre of ground.

MORE ABOUT CIGARETTE-HANDICAPS

Doctor Charles L. Barber of Lansing, Mich., at a Medical Research Convention, stated: A baby born of a cigarette-smoking mother is sick. It is poisoned. The post mortem shows degeneration of liver, heart and other organs. Sixty per cent of the babies born of mothers who are habitual cigarette smokers, die before they are two years old—others being weak and defective.

WOMEN LISTEN TO THIS

Smoke injures the baby. "Medical authorities of the world" state that infants inhaling tobacco-laden atmosphere acquire loss of appetite, smoker's eyes, listless ways, restless nights, nausea and vomiting.

"Poor Baby," in Vancouver "Sun," Mr. Editor: As a typical example of our smart modern girls, we had a roomer who nursed her baby with a cigarette dangling from her mouth. The falling hot ashes burned a hole in the baby's wool jacket. The infant got sick and the doctor said it was "nicotine colic," but none of this stopped the foolish mother from smoking. She had acquired the habit. M. T. Lowry.

"The subject of cigarette smoking is controversial only in the minds of the uninformed, not so in the light of scientific facts."

THE CIGARETTE FOUND GUILTY

Under the above heading in a recent edition of "Magazine Digest," after years of research, Dr. W. J. McCormick of Toronto, is reported as stating that excessive cigarette smoking causes heart disease known as "Coronary Thrombosis" (formation of a lump in a blood vessel), the common cause of many sudden deaths.

U.S. LOOKS TO CANADIAN INDUSTRY

From Editor's Copy, Orangeburg, S.C.

In the wilderness of North-western Canada, a new city is being built for 50,000 persons, who will produce aluminum for U.S. consumption. A tunnel is to be drilled two miles through a mountain to carry the water necessary to generate electricity. Roads and streets are being cut through forests.

The new city, Kitimat, is to be one of the largest aluminum plants in the world. Running at capacity, the smelter of this one city will turn out 60 per cent of the entire United States output. The plant, which is expected to cost about half a billion dollars and employ 13,000 men, will ease Washington's allocation problems considerably.

We in the United States often overlook the fact that Canada is rapidly developing into one of the leading industrial nations in the world. In the field of world trade, Canada ranks only behind the United States, Great Britain and France. As a matter of fact, Canadian foreign trade amounts to about $8 billion annually. With a national income of $23 billion, industrial expansion continues at a rate of more than $4 billion a year.

In the last fifty years, the population of Canada has increased from five million to 14 million. The standard of living of our northern neighbors is almost as high as the U.S. standard. Nineteen out of twenty Canadian families have radios, three out of every five own automobiles, and five out of seven have telephones.

Within the next few months, Canadians will begin a project to harness the waters of the Saskatchewan River to irrigate 600,000 acres of land, which will mean homes for 30,000 additional families.

The Canadian Parliament has already authorized construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway, which will make it possible for ocean vessels to sail from the Atlantic into the middle of the continent. Electric power production in Canada has doubled in recent years, and this pioneer nation has its own atomic development.

We in the United States are delighted to see our next door neighbor making so much progress. Instead of fortifying the frontier, we realize that a strong Canada is an asset in the fight for world peace. It is unfortunate that the peoples of Europe are unable to get along as well with one another as do the peoples of the United States and Canada.

Voice of the People

AS IT IS

A letter had appeared recently in another newspaper titled "As It Can Be" and signed "So-and-So", which was in reply to my letter in same paper when I wrote on a different subject than present. As the paper refused to publish my reply again, will you please, sir, allow me space to do so?

"So-and-So" wrote that all sorts of evidence show that human nature is changeable and surmountable and that we must not accept the world as it is, but we must see it as it can be, etc. To prove that his strange ideas are totally wrong, I could bring up innumerable living examples as facts, not evidence, since the latter proved from time to time to be false and thus grossly misleading. To be brief, however, I am drawing his attention to the following observations only:

Human nature is being only driven, and only partially, by civilized social orders and rules into a privacy; but the strong and deeply rooted natural tendencies of a human being never have been changed. It is ridiculous to say by "So-and-So" that eating with fingers or hitting back when hit people throughout the world ceased doing. I do know that such natural practices are continuously going on in every land on the globe. Of course, in more civilized countries mostly privately as far as enjoyable eating is concerned (I mean any solidified food).

Now, how about: prejudice, jealousy, hatred, distrust, conspiracy, deceitfulness, greediness, selfishness, self-conceit, talking but not listening, etc.—were these natural stubborn tendencies surmounted within human nature? Definitely not! All sorts of class-room education, great Christian principles and most severe criticisms proved to be helpless and useless. Only people with enormously wide life education and so with highly humanitarian ideals are being able to cultivate self-suppression in these regards; but these are only very small minorities.

Therefore how "So-and-So" could expect to see the world as it can be with such detrimental points within human nature?

They are those tragic obstacles which have blocked completely the road to the world as it can or should be. Without changing of bad sides within human nature the dream about better world will remain as just a dream for ever. The history has proved it beyond any doubt. Also human life is much too short to see even a marked improvement of the world. We must accept it as it is (despite of the fact that present world is full of evils) to be able to live and so to have opportunity to try to help the right-leading persons to build up a better world for future generations. We must face the realities. History has also proved that those who were unable to face realities all have ended disastrously!

Nevertheless, as an optimist I do strongly believe, Mr. Editor, that these mentioned hereby terrible points within human nature could be changed within present century to the extent that betterment of the world could be achieved within next century, providing that beside churches and bible prophecy every educational institution, press, every employer and every home and community league of leading nations at least would preach continuously and with emphasis and solemnity the true brotherhood among all peoples on earth. Without it the world will remain hopeless for ever.

As to the reforms, "So-and-So" missed the point again, because it was nothing else but the natural aspirations and impulses which did move oppressed and abused peoples to demand and in some cases to struggle for their natural rights to live as free and equal human beings. As is seen human nature has some good points, too, which it would be a grave mistake to attempt to change; because just a pure illusion or wishful talk can change nothing.

Thursday Is Deadline Date

Thursday, April 24, has been set as the final date by which all Alberta passenger cars should be equipped with new license plates. In announcing the deadline, E. R. "Motorists who wish to avoid needless delay should get their license plates now."

THE LIGHTER SIDE

Only Decision

The brand-new benedict and an older husband were discussing their favorite subject—women. "Did you ever win an argument with your wife?" the benedict asked.

"Once," the other answered reflectively. "But it was years ago."

"What was the argument about?"

"I don't remember offhand, but I do recall very clearly that we were putting down a new living-room rug at the time and her mouth was full of carpet tacks."

The Question

The father decided to have a serious talk with young Jimmy, who was inclined to be light-hearted and irresponsible.

"Jimmy," he said, "you're getting to be a big boy and you ought to take things more seriously. Just think—if I died suddenly where would you be?"

"Here," said Jimmy. "The question is, where would you be?"

Modern

After searching in vain for a job, a man applied for relief. A girl was behind the desk filling out a questionnaire.

"Do you owe any back house rent?"

"Ma-am," he replied with utmost dignity, "we have modern pumping."

Stem Rust—What's Ahead
for 1952

A plain statement of the situation is that Race 15B of stem rust presents a serious threat to wheat production in Western Canada in 1952. None of the wheat varieties now grown commercially in the Prairie Provinces are resistant to Race 15B.

Rust in the South. During the past winter, Race 15B of stem rust caused considerable damage to grain crops in central Mexico. Stem rust has already been found in Texas. However, crop conditions in that State are unfavourable for the development and spread of rust. Present indications are that there will be no important "build-up" of rust in Texas this Spring. Crop conditions in Oklahoma and Kansas, however, are excellent, and it is possible that a heavy outbreak of stem rust may occur in these States this Spring. If this happens, and the prevailing winds are just right (from the south), billions of spores of Race 15B of stem rust may invade and infect the wheat fields of Western Canada during the critical months of June and July. It is impossible for anyone to forecast at this time whether or not an epidemic of stem rust will occur in Western Canada in 1952. It all depends upon the weather, particularly the weather conditions of June, July and August.

Protective Measures. For their own protection western farmers are advised to use the following rust control measures this Spring: (1) Use only good, high-germinating seed of a recommended wheat variety. (2) Clean and treat all your seed-grain this Spring. This will not stop rust, but it will help the plants to get off to a faster start and lead to earlier crop maturity. (3) Where practicable, use a phosphate fertilizer. This will also help to induce early maturity. (4) Above all, plant your wheat as early as possible. Wheat crops that mature early have a much better chance of escaping rust damage than crops that mature late. These are definite, practical steps which western farmers can and should take this Spring to protect themselves against possible losses from stem rust in 1952.

Encouraging Spring
Harvest Yields

Samples of grain harvested on Alberta farms so far this Spring are not lower in grade than they would have been last Fall and are actually better in some instances as they are not as tough or damp, the Alberta Wheat Pool reported Tuesday.

The fact that the grain has not greatly deteriorated is contrary to what many observers had thought. What was No. 5 last Fall is No. 5 this Spring and it is not damp and tough.

Some field damage is reported but no heavier than last Fall when heavy rains made the midwest situation as bad or worse than now. Of the grain so far harvested, mice damage is not reported to be severe.

A MODEL OF THE old Town Hall clock tower of Preston, England, was a unique Canadian Pacific Express shipment aboard the Empress of France when she docked at Saint John, N.B., last week. The model, which moved in the custody of Chief Bedoum Steward William C. Hartley (far right), a native of Preston, is now travelling throughout Canada and the United States, and is being displayed in the city halls of many of the major cities. With it is an illuminated scroll on which all ex-Prestonians are asked to sign their names. The clock tower, carved from the original timbers of the old structure which was destroyed by fire in 1947, is a symbol of the Preston Guild celebrations which, with the exception of the war years, have been held every 20 years for the last 400 years. They will be held in Preston on Sept. 1 this year and the model of the tower carried an invitation to all old Prestonians to attend. In this picture, taken the day the tour started in Liverpool aboard the Empress, are (left to right): Councillor J. W. Taylor, mayor of Preston; Preston's town clerk, W. E. Lockley; D. B. Watson, general agent for the CPR at Liverpool; and Mr. Hartley. — (Canadian Pacific Railway Photo).

NEW FOR KIDDIES The British industries Fair, world-famous as the largest national industrial exhibition on earth, isn't all engineering and jewelry and textiles, etc. A large range of familiar and novel toys are displayed. New in the toy section this year when the 36th B.I.F. opens on May 5, will be the mobo-snail enthusiastically being tried out here by an English toddler.

Co-Eds Design, Build Robot Test 'Plane

TAKING SHAFT under the minute fingers of boys and girls students of the Miles Aircraft Technical School, Ettersburg, England, is a two-wing model plane, named Venture. Designed entirely by the girls, it will, when finished, act as a test bed for an electric automatic pilot known as Lepid, the firm of which the school is part.

In the background of the top picture, two of the girls work on Venture, while (foreground) boys and another girl work on the airframe of another ship. On the left, 10-year-old Barbara Beavers (left) and 11-year-old Jean Ashton make Venture's port-hole frame.

Started by a British aircraft manufacturer in 1940 with 24 girl students, the Miles school—attached to the production plant—is now co-educational with 120 students learning every subject of aircraft design and construction. Students, regardless of their educational background, are taken from the age of 16; interest and keenness are the only qualifications necessary.

THOSE "DEMON STATISTICIANS" that make up the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, will move into their fine new quarters in Ottawa this spring or early summer. Above is an early photo of the new building.

TWO CANADIAN naval officers who have carried out two full tours of duty in Korean waters are pictured above on a shopping expedition in a Japanese port shortly before their ship, HMCS Sioux, sailed for home. They are Commander Paul D. Taylor of Victoria, right, commanding officer of the Sioux, and Lieut.-Cmdr. Patrick C. Benson of Winnipeg and Victoria, executive officer of the destroyer. Cmdr. Taylor and Lieut.-Cmdr. Benson have each served 15 months in the Korean war theatre. — (National Defence Photo).

LETTERS TO LOUISA

Dear Louisa,

Our only daughter is getting married this month to a very nice young man, who makes a small salary. My husband and I would like for them to stay with us for several years until he has a better income. We have offered them free board but they have refused and intend to start housekeeping in a two-room apartment.

Don't you think they are very foolish not to take advantage of our offer?

I wish you would write what you think, so they can read it.

OTHER

Answer:

No, I do not think they are foolish. It is better for young married people to start off in a home of their own, even if it is very simple, rather than with others. In this way, they gradually make the necessary adjustments to such other without an audience looking on and giving advice.

There are, of course, circumstances that make such a course impractical. A couple cannot be happy if they are really hungry and unable to pay the rent. And when a mother is working outside of the home and has no responsible person to leave her child with, she is fortunate to be able to live with her parents.

But on the whole, life is usually less complicated and we love our in-laws more if we do not live with them.

LOUISA

Dear Louisa,

I have been going with a young man for eight years and always supposed that we would get married when he did not have to take care of his mother, who was a semi-invalid. She died two months ago but he has not said anything about a wedding. He doesn't go with anyone else but I am puzzled and disconcerted over the situation.

What would you do?

E. P.

Answer:

You have certainly been going with him long enough to bring up the subject yourself.

If he shies away from the matter, you had better call off the whole thing as your young man may be one of those persons who likes to have someone pumper him but doesn't care to take on the family.

Speed Grain Germination By Treating Seed

When a farmer sows his seed he hopes for a good crop. Between sowing and harvest there are many hazards. The first is between the time he puts his seed in the soil and the time it gets above ground. Only a few days in the soil and the most vital stage in the short history of the wheat or oat plant or whatever type of grain he sows.

This operation must be a success. Without a good start there can't be a good crop.

Treatment of seed with a mercuric dust is one way to get it. Only by trial is this proved and here is the result of experiments with oats under western conditions.

The same number of seeds were sown in each case. The first line shows the number of days between sowing and the time the plant emerged above ground. The second line shows when and how many seedlings came through without treatment of any kind. The third line shows when and how many came through when treated before sowing with Leytossan.

Days after sowing — 6-8-19-

Seedlings emerging without treatment—36-28-30-2-1.

Seedlings emerging treated with Leytossan—41-38-18-1-1.

With treatment 75 seedlings came through in the 6th, 7th and 8th days. Without treatment only 64. For this 8-day period a bigger and quicker germination by 24 per cent.

Hogs Marketed

At Wrong Weights

Alberta hog producers are advised by the Alberta Department of Agriculture to market their hogs at proper weights. During 1951, an increased number of hogs weighing more than the prescribed weights for grades "A" and "B" were marketed.

Heavy hogs mean more to the farmer than reduced sales price and loss of the bonus given for marketing hogs of proper weight. A. J. Charnetzki, Live Stock Supervisor, said more feed is needed for each additional gain of a pound in weight after a weight of 200 pounds is reached.

The percentage of top grades could be increased considerably by feeding balanced diets and not marketing any hogs over 210 pounds in weight. Skim milk should be used or replaced with protein supplements.

Mr. Charnetzki said inferior breeding is another cause of defective hogs. Parent stock must be of high quality to produce top grade hogs. High quality includes good length, fine shoulders, lack of bulge in break of rib, good type rear flanks, and full, firm hams. These points should be present in both sire and female.

At a public school one day I was talking to a girl friend, saying "Oh, do I hate that kid." Just then I turned around and saw him. Was I ever embarrassed when he said, "Who is that? Me?" "Who is that? Me?"

JOYCE VOROS.

Hardisty, Alta.

The first time I made jelly with jelly powder I did not stir it long enough to dissolve it all. The result was that there was a tough layer at the bottom. I was embarrassed when I served it to hear the remark, "What is this made of, buckskin?"

MARION MELLOTT,
Calinton.

When shopping in a department store with my sister for a new dress, we were carefully checking those displays on store dummies. Finding a dress I liked, I called out "Victoria, come and see this dress! I wonder what the price is!" The dummy turned out to be a flesh and blood lady who stepped backwards and said: "This dress isn't for sale." This was my most embarrassing moment ever.

THE ABOVE PICTURE shows Aircraftswomen (A.W.) "Terry" Wiles of Edmonton and Jean Picard of Campbellton N.B. as they are greeted by W.C.W. Gilmour, Commanding Officer of RCAF Station, Claresholm, Alta., on their arrival, Friday, Feb. 28. Terry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G.T. Wiles reside at 10324 82 Ave., Edmonton. Terry attended Seona High School in Edmonton before she started work for the people for her association with roller skating in this city. Terry has Provincial Government. She left the Government service to join the RCAF. Eighteen-year-old Terry Wiles may be remembered by some being training for the last six months at St. Hubert as an Aircraft Control Assistant, and these will be her duties at Claresholm. As the first two women personnel to arrive at Claresholm, they were welcomed with considerable enthusiasm.

DON'T GO WEST, GIRLS!

NOT ENOUGH MEN AVAILABLE

Girls who think the West is the place to catch a husband, even in Leap Year, had better take a look at the latest census figures before making any plans.

In Alberta alone there are 76 places, cities, towns, villages, Improvement Districts or regular divisions into which the province has been divided by census takers where women exceed men in numbers.

So you've got to be careful girls.

It's not enough to come to the West and plunk yourself down, complete with dowry, expecting men to come tripping over you.

EVEN STEPHEN

Not only are those 76 places in which the females are already vying for honors in the eyes of the males, but there are also four other places where the set-up is so precise there are exactly the same number of females as males. These are in two Improvement Districts, Wood Buffalo Park and Stony Plain.

In 11 Alberta localities the difference between the number of males and the number of females is only one person.

But to go back for a minute to those 76 over-populated areas. Among those areas is Calgary with 65,081 gals, and only 63,979 fellas. Under those circumstances any girl who walks down a city street with two men is almost committing a crime.

Edmonton is also in the unhealthy state of having more women than men. Its figures show a total of 80,658 gals to only 78,973 men.

One of the big surprises in the ninth census from which the population figures are drawn is the fact that the oil town of Devon, just south of Edmonton, has more women than men. Even with its great oil industry employing hundreds of men figures show only 408 men and 434 women.

MORE OF THEM

Two other Alberta towns, the once-great Turner Valley, and the booming Fort Macleod, recently renamed, are also run by women. They must be. There are more of them.

For husband hunting women looking for adventure and who don't mind an element of chance in their endeavors try Viking with 342 men and 341 women; Ajax with 231 men and 230 women.

Beautiful Baby

SEMITONE Studios, of Boyle took this charming picture of Judy Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rhein of Atmore. Judy is 19 months old.

with 231 men and 230 women. Bittern Lake, 13 to 12; Alberta Beach, 40 to 39; some place called 661, 662, Improvement District with six men and five women; 589, 590, 1.D., 19 men and only 18 women; or the Indian Reserve in District 16, where there are 51 men and 50 women.

TAR SANDS DEVELOPMENT TO BEGIN THIS SUMMER

Five independent companies will start an exploration program this summer to develop the Athabasca oil sands, while arrangements have been made by a Swedish oil firm to lease sections of the Province's plant at Bitumont to experiment with their extraction process.

The companies, which have leased almost 250,000 acres of land west of the Athabasca River and north of Fort McMurray, include Calvan Consolidated Oil and Gas Corporation, Asher Oil Company, Pacific Petroleum Limited, New Continental Oil of Canada and Charter Oils. Their program will consist of systematic core drilling to determine the amount of overburden above the productive oil sands formations, the thickness of the sand and the petroleum content.

Secony - Vacuum Exploration Co. Ltd., and Edward Gilbert, all of Calgary, also have applied for reservations in the oil sands. Each of the three applicants have applied for reservations of 50,000 acres.

The Swedish Shale Oil Company will attempt to extract oil from the sands by a process involving heat. The present proven systems are by the hot water and the cold water methods.

Dying Man Pays For Conscience

EDMONTON The Alberta government's fish and game branch is $75 richer and a 72-year-old Vancouver man, formerly of Alberta, can die without a guilty conscience. The man sent to the judge of the District Court in Innisfail, Alta., a cheque for $75 which he said was the money he received sometime between 1909 and 1920 for pelts of six beavers he killed illegally.

He said he didn't expect to live very long and wanted to die with a clear conscience.

The money was turned over to the government's fish and game branch.

Moore-Robinson

Brocaded tissue taffeta fashioned the bridal gown worn by Miss Helen Beryl Robinson for her marriage this week in Westminster United Church to Mr. John Hodgins Moore.

Rev. W. H. Moss performed the ceremony in an Easter setting of lilies and colorful spring blossoms.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Robinson of Clyde. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Moore of Seven Persons.

Entering the church with her father, the bride wore a taffeta gown fashioned with a fitted bodice featuring a standup collar with rolled revers and long lilly-point sleeves. The full skirt fell in soft folds to the floor. A coronet of seeded pearls and brilliants held in place her fingertip veil of French illusion and she carried a colonial bouquet of orchids and white rosebuds.

Mrs. S. A. Mills of Onoway attended her sister as matron of honor, wearing a floor length gown of turquoise embossed organdie completed with a matching hat trimmed with pink satin ribbons. Her bouquet was a Colonial of orchids and white rosebuds.

The little flower girl, Margaret Dell Mills, chose a floor length gown of blue organdie with a pink satin sash. In her hair she wore a bandeau of Sweetheart roses. She carried a Colonial bouquet of the same flowers.

The groom was attended by Mr. Thomas Moore. Ushers were Mr. David Buchanan and Mr. Sidney Mills of Onoway. Mrs. John England was soloist. During the signing of the register she sang, "A wedding Prayer", and at the reception she sang "Hail". Organist was Mrs. Fricke of Clyde.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Robinson wore a powder blue dress completed with navy accessories and a corsage of white roses.

The groom's mother chose a gown of black silk crepe and lace with pink accessories. Sweetheart roses formed her corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception for 50 guests was held at the King Edward Hotel where a triple tiered cake embedded in tulle sprinkled with rosebuds crowned the bride's table. Topping the cake was a vase of sweet-heart roses.

A toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Moss.

Leaving on their honeymoon, the bride changed to a navy suit with matching accessories. Her corsage was of red roses.

The newlyweds will make their home at Seven Persons.

Comitted Suicide Takes Two With Him

VANCOUVER — A 61-year-old man who committed suicide Good Friday accidentally carried two other men into death with him.
